

September-October 2009

EXHIBITS

31st Annual Duke Employee Art Show

Phyllis Burns, "Morning News" detail, First Place Professional

FEATURING CURRENT AND PAST EMPLOYEES, VOLUNTEERS AND THEIR FAMILIES

August 28 - October 4

Professional Artwork

Mars Gallery, Hospital North Corridor

Intermediate / Amateur Artwork

Mars Gallery & Bryan Center Multicultural Center Windows

Youth and Teen Artwork

Eye Center Connector Gallery (2nd Floor)

Art Show Winners

Mars Gallery and Eye Center Connector Gallery

Eye Center Galleries

Highlights from our African Collection

Includes the premier showing of a Congolese dance costume.

Touchable Art Gallery

From October 7th. Runs through December

Sub-Saharan African Refugee Art Exhibit

Duke Student Shama Milon returns from Cairo, Egypt, with samples of crafts created by sub-Saharan African refugees she worked with this summer at St. Andrew's United Church in Cairo. Their work will be available for purchase through October.

Proceeds from sales will go to support the school at St. Andrews School in Cairo.

Reception Gallery
Through October

We acknowledge the generous support of the North Carolina Arts Council, a Division of Cultural Resources, the Mary Duke Biddle Foundation & the J. Scott Byrd Foundation